Lima, Peru, August 29, 2006 - Compania de Minas Buenaventura S.A.A. ("the Company" or "Buenaventura") (NYSE: BVN; Lima Stock Exchange: BUE.LM) announced today that Minera Yanacocha SRL ("Yanacocha"), which is owned 43.65% by Buenaventura, informed the Company that on August 26, 2006 Yanacocha suspended mining activities in response to an illegal blockade of the main road between the City of Cajamarca and the Yanacocha mine site. Yanacocha informed Buenaventura that the suspension of mining activities is a direct result of the ongoing blockade and the threat it poses to the safe transportation of Yanacocha's employees and those of its contractors as well as the movement of supplies to the mine. Although normal operations are impacted, Yanacocha informed Buenaventura that Yanacocha's processing and environmental activities are not impacted and continue to operate normally. In addition, Yanacocha informed Buenaventura that earlier this month, Yanacocha suspended construction activities on its Carachugo leach pad expansion pending the resolution of a dispute relating to demands for additional work contracts.

Yanacocha informed Buenaventura that Yanacocha maintains close communication with local and national government officials and has requested that the government restore public order and facilitate the peaceful resolution of the roadblock so that safe operations and dialogue may resume. Yanacocha is not able to determine when the blockade will be resolved, and, therefore, is unable to assess the materiality of the impact, if any, on production.
